ON WAR AND PEACE

PRESIDENT WILSON HAD STRENUOUS DAY IN CINCINNATI.

MADE FOUR SPEECHES

The President Also Told Great Crowds That in Future Wars U. S. Can't Remain Neutral.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Cincinnati, Oct. 27.—President Wilson spoke here tonight in Music Hall, packed to the doors with people. Men and women stood in the aisles. Outside the streets were crowded. When the President appeared on the stage beside ex-Governor Judson Harmon of Ohio, the people stood and cheered, waving American flags.

In his night speech President Wilson said he was ready to engage in a war for the rights of mankind, declared money accumulated in the United States should be used after the war only for righteous purposes, and called upon people who wished to be considered Americans to act as Americans.

"Business of Neutrality Over."

Earlier yesterday, discussing the relation of the United States to the European war, President Wilson declared "this is the last war that involves the world that the United States can keep out of." He gave as his reason his belief that "the business of neutrality is over," and that "war now has such a scale that the position of neutrals sooner or later becomes intolerable." He added that the nations of the world must get together and say "nobody can hereafter be neutral as respects the disturbance of the world's peace for an object which the world's opinion cannot sanction."

"The influences that govern international affairs on the other side of the ocean are secret purposes," the President said last night. "America will not be governed in secret. America has interlarded sympathies."

"It is inconceivable that America should wish to take anything from other nations. Do you not see, therefore, that the problem of one of your public servants is very difficult? We are the clearing house for the sympathies of mankind. We are debtors to mankind to see that we square our policies with human liberty everywhere."

Complimentary Interruption.

Mentioning the Federal Reserve Act, he said it placed credit before anyone who had security.

"We freed ourselves from guardianship in order that we might not commit the impertinence of guardianship to other people. I didn't know how to take care of you, and you know perfectly well I don't know how to take care of you."

The president was interrupted by cries of "Yes, you do!" followed by cheering.

"No, my fellow citizens," he responded. "I only try to find out what you want me to do and to do it."

May Have to Use Force.

"We have got to step out in the great arena. Some day we may have to use the physical force of this nation. Being the nation that we are we cannot use it to promote aggression. Being the nation that we are we should use it to prevent aggression."

He repeated that the present war was due largely to secret intrigues.

"We have seen that the position of neutral becomes almost intolerable. As between right and wrong there can be no neutrality. We must see that no nation goes to war for some cause not approved by the verdict of mankind."

"War I'm willing to engage in."

"That's the kind of war I am willing

TURNED DOWN "WET" ADS

The Democrat-Forum Refused to Sell Space to Liquor Interests—The Tribune Carried "Wet" Ads.

The majority of the papers throughout the county and the state have shown their true colors by turning down the "wet" advertising, which has been offered to them by the liquor dealers in a last effort to defeat the prohibition amendment.

This advertising has been submitted to the newspapers at higher prices than those paid by the local merchants for their daily advertising. It contains statistics designed to show honest voters what a great mistake they are making in trying to down "booze."

Facts are cited to show that the liquor traffic has been of great assistance to Missouri, and the liquor interests hope to swing the state to the side of the "wets" by this means.

The Democrat-Forum refused to sell its columns for the purpose of aiding in the defeat of prohibition.

On the other hand, this week's Maryville Tribune carried two large sized advertisements which advocate the defeat of state-wide prohibition.

Here is what the Burlington Junction Post has to say on the matter, and it expresses our sentiments exactly:

The Post turned the "wet" advertisement down. We would have turned it down at ten times the price. In spite of the fact that office expenses have almost doubled and we need the "filthy lucre" worse than we ever did to take the ship safely through, we could not see our way clear to accept any matter that might turn one single vote from state-wide prohibition. The Post has space to sell for advertising bacon, beans, overalls or shoes, but nary an inch for booze.

MRS. WALTER LILLY DIES

Succumbs to Attack of Uremic Poisoning at Her Home, Near Barnard.—Funeral in Georgia.

G.O.P. JOLTED HARD

SON OF FORMER REPUBLICAN PRESIDENT FOR WILSON.

WHAT GARFIELD SAYS

Best Interests of Our Country Will be Best Served by Retaining the Present Administration.

Theodore Elijah Burton, one-time Ohio Senator and one-time candidate for the Presidential nomination, has just received a jolt—in fact, several of them all at once. He felt certain when he wrote to Harry Garfield, president of Williams College, and son of James A. Garfield, former president of the United States, who was elected by Republican votes, that Mr. Garfield would become a member of the Hughes national college league. This is the reply he received from the pen of the son of a former Republican president of the United States:

"Highly as I honor Mr. Hughes, I have decided to support Mr. Wilson. His character as a man, his sympathetic understanding of the problems of the day, his record in office, his unusual ability, preeminently displayed in meeting and dealing with the three great emergencies of his administration, and the importance of maintaining an uninterrupted policy at this juncture in world affairs, lead me to believe that the best interests of our country will be served in keeping the present administration and its party in office for the present. I have, therefore, enrolled myself with the league of independent voters of Massachusetts."

And the president of Williams College didn't stop there. He added another jolt, which wasn't even invited, in the letter he received from Senator Burton. It was:

"Permit me to add that the sectional issue, raised by some of our Republican leaders, is repugnant to American spirit and the welfare of our institutions. Under the circumstances it offends the sense of fair dealing with political opponents, it tends to arouse old fires of passion and, if successful, will disunite a people now united and incidentally destroy the party that fosters so calamitous an issue."

WILSON STILL LEADS

Four Days of Straw Voting Shows 180 for President, and 89 for Hughes.

The result of the four days of the straw vote which is being taken at the Orear-Henry drug store shows 180 votes for President Wilson to 89 for Charles Evans Hughes, nearly two to one for the President. The result of yesterday's straw vote was 32 for Wilson and 14 for Hughes.

The vote will be taken for several days yet and every voter, regardless of what party he is a member, is cordially invited to cast a ballot for his choice for president.

Rees of Burlington Junction for $60 an acre. The 120-acre farm known as the Johnson Criger farm was sold to C. I. Hann of Burlington Junction for $57.50.

Just a fair crowd was in attendance at the auction sale of these farms.

The candidates on the Democratic county ticket will attend the Skidmore meeting, as will also a number of Democrats from Maryville.

Senator Thompson's home is in Garden City. He has been identified with Kansas for over thirty-five years and is the author of a number of legal articles on judicial reform. He was elected district judge at the age of 34. For United States senator, Senator Thompson received the largest popular vote ever given any Democrat in Kansas. His term will expire in 1919.

MRS. D. E. MILLS SUED

Former Maryville Woman Brands as False the Charges of Chicago Man.

The Chicago Tribune of Wednesday has an article about a suit brought against Mrs. D. E. Mills of Chicago, who is in Maryville at present on a visit to her mother, Mrs. J. V. Embree. The suit was brought by Frederick Cromwell, a "free lance" newspaper man, who asks for $25,000 damages, charging false arrest. The article follows:

Mrs. Mary Mills of 6216 Dorchester avenue, former president of the Illinois Progressive Woman's league and at one time Progressive candidate for county commissioner, was made the defendant yesterday in a suit for $25,000, charging false arrest. Frederick Cromwell, a "free lance" newspaper man and investigator, is the complainant. Cromwell's bill avers he called at Mrs. Mills' home three months ago by appointment to enlist her interest in a proposed newspaper investigation of ice cream parlors in Hyde Park.

"Mrs. Mills told me to come back the next day, and that she would talk with Mrs. Charles E. Merriam in the meantime about the matter," said Cromwell. "As I left the house I was arrested by two detectives and rushed to the Woodlawn station, where they kept me two hours. Finally Capt. Adcock said:

"Well, I guess Mrs. Mills isn't going to go any further with this, so I'll have to let you go."

"I never did find out what I was arrested for."

Mrs. Mills, when asked today about the suit said: "The whole thing is a tissue of lies trumped up by politicians of Chicago for the purpose of keeping me out of the city. So long as I remain in Maryville the notice cannot be served; but as soon as I go to Chicago I shall receive the notice. The politicians hope, no doubt, to keep me out of Chicago so that I won't organize my Progressive party of women for the coming election. I am not going back to Chicago at present, but the idea of this suit is not influencing my decision."

Mrs. Mills was an active worker in the vice crusade in Chicago and feels that her great efforts in the work of cleaning up the city might have had something to do with it. That there is some sort of a plot behind it all she is certain.

MORE TAX FACTS

LAMM SUED NINE TIMES FOR PERSONAL TAXES.

DIDN'T ANSWER ALL

In Some Cases Prosecution Dropped Suit; In Others Defendant Confessed Judgment.

Yesterday's St. Louis Star contains an article which gives the details of the tax suits in which Henry Lamm, Republican candidate for governor, was defendant. The report of the Star follows:

Investigation by a correspondent for the St. Louis Star into the personal record of Henry Lamm, Republican candidate for governor, in this—Pettis—his home county, reveals that the former justice of the supreme court of the state has been sued for personal taxes in 1893, 1895, 1897, 1899, 1904, 1907 and 1914, and that, although known to be a man of considerable means, his tax return for 1915 was only for $815.

The investigation shows further that this amount was increased by the Pettis county board of equalization to $1,270, April 7, 1916. In Lamm's personal tax return for last year he lists under the head of "pianos and all other musical instruments" the sum of $25; "watches, chains and appendages," $15; "library, household and kitchen furniture, including library," at $350, and "all other property, including law books," at $400.

Sued Nine Times for Taxes.

The Star's investigation produced certified statements from George W. Driskell, clerk of the circuit court; N. P. Elmore, clerk of the county court, and J. C. Connor, justice of the peace for Sedalia township, showing that Lamm has been sued for personal taxes, as follows:

March 21, 1893, by V. P. Hart, collector for city taxes, $72.50.

July 29, 1893, by V. P. Hart, city collector, $3.90.

February 27, 1895, by M. Doherty, county collector, personal tax, $64.40.

August 17, 1897, by W. U. Wilye, city collector, $89.80.

April 4, 1899, by J. E. Rector, county collector, $217.74.

March 21, 1904, by E. V. McClure, county collector, $2.36.

July 3, 1907, by John L. Sullivan, county collector, $30.85.

NO AMERICAN AID

SECRETARY BAKER SAYS PLOT IS ALL MEXICAN.

BORDER TROOPS READY

All Prepared for Attack, Information About Which is in the Hands of the War Department.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Washington, Oct. 27.—Complete denial that any Americans are implicated in the alleged plot to embarrass the administration by engineering an attack by bandits against Americans was made by Secretary of War Baker today. He emphatically declared it was with no thought of political expediency that he made public his charges to the country, but said that the action was taken with the intention of showing how anti-Carranzista-Mexican politicians in this country are endeavoring to bring about a crisis in Mexican affairs.

Secretary Baker announced late yesterday that the war department had received definite information that enemies of the government's policy toward Mexico in connection with Villa or other bandits, had arranged for a spectacular attack on American troops on the border to be made before the election to create sentiment against the administration.

Full particulars of the plan had been forwarded to Generals Funston and Pershing, and all the American forces are in readiness for the attack.

to be sure what they are fighting about, and they want to be sure that they are fighting for the things that will bring to the world justice and peace. Define the elements; let us know that we are not fighting for the prevalence of this nation over that, for the ambitions of this group of nations as compared with the ambitions of that group of nations; let us once be convinced that we are called in to a great combination to fight for the rights of mankind, and America will unite her force and spill her blood for the great things which she has always believed in and followed.—From Woodrow Wilson's address at Shadow Lawn, Oct. 14, 1916.

T. R.'S ATTACK ON GREAT MEN.

Whatever his reasons his efforts are doomed to failure. The people know Colonel Roosevelt too well to accept with favor his attack on Woodrow Wilson. They remember that in his "Life of Gouverneur Morris" he belittles Washington's ability as a general and criticizes his administration for its lack of "decision." They will recall that in "The Naval War of 1812" he states that Jefferson was "the most incapable executive that ever filled the presidential chair;" that he wrote of Madison, "Excepting Jefferson, we have never produced an executive more helpless than Madison;" that he said of Monroe, "I think he was as much a failure as his predecessors and a harsher criticism could not be passed upon him;" that he denounced Andrew Jackson as "a man of strong, narrow mind and bitter prejudice with few statesmanlike qualities."

Can anyone solemnly digest these denunciations of American presidents, supplemented by the charge of "craven" against President Wilson, without deep mortification and shame that they emanate from an American citizen and a former president?—Daily Journal of Commerce, San Francisco, Cal.

HIGH AUTHORITY ON LAND BANK BILL.

Prof. Frank A. Fetter of Princeton university, an expert on rural credits, endorses the practicability and value of the Gardner land bank, and pays a high tribute to Mr. Gardner's earnestness and ability in studying the subject, and formulating his plan. Prof. Fetter declares that with efficient and honest administration, the bank as planned in the Gardner bill will be a success, and a splendid thing for the farmers of Missouri. He says it is valuable as a supplement to the federal bill, and thinks the farmers need a state system of rural credits in addition to the federal system. He thinks one-half of one per cent ample to bear the cost of administration. Judge Lamm has never given the land bank bill any study, while Col. Gardner, the author, has for three years given the subject careful investigation. Col. Gardner is a business man, while Judge Lamm has never given any measure to advance the interests of the farmers any attention, until he was nominated for governor by his party. Outside of Col. Gardner's efforts in this particular matter he has proven wherever trusted a successful, resourceful and practicable business man. At no time in the history of Missouri have the people had more need of a man of the Gardner type than now. Wherever Judge Lamm attacks the Gardner bill he makes votes for Gardner.

NOT "AMERICA ONLY."

In a vain striving after some slogan for the Republican campaign which would strike the public fancy, ex-Senator Beveridge coined "America Only."

Contrast the selfish narrowness of this with America's history and America's destiny and the American policy of Woodrow Wilson.

Our country started with a world-wide mission "to offer a home and freedom to the oppressed of all nations." That was the Americanism of the Fathers of the Republic, and the Americanism of Washington, of Lincoln and of Wilson.

Lovers of liberty and justice all the world over have looked to America for inspiration, for guidance, for sympathy and help, and they have not looked in vain, least of all in the administration of Woodrow Wilson. Under him the highest traditions of America have been maintained.

Great nations at war, in a struggle that each believed to threaten its very existence, sought to disregard the restrictions of international law. President Wilson with a firmness that forced obedience and a patience that scrupulously observed all the principles and ideals of the law he so insistently upheld, has preserved to America and to all nations International Law as a rule of conduct among nations. He preserved its very life, for no other power than America could have said "nay" to the nations at war.

In this President Wilson has not only performed an immemorial service to civilization and to humanity—he has brought America to fulfill her highest, broadest, noblest destiny.

to engage in. Other nations owe it to respect for the opinion of mankind to submit their cases to the opinion of mankind. I know that our nation will be willing to lend every dollar of her wealth, every ounce of her blood to the maintenance of the peace of the world built upon that foundation.

"We know that happiness lives in the atmosphere of peace. We are disciples of righteousness and we want peace because we know that righteousness cannot breathe any other air."

Cries of "Wilson! Wilson!"

"The problem of our politics—I am not speaking of the problem to be settled November 7," began the president, but he was interrupted by cries of "Wilson, Wilson."

"The 7th of November will come and go and be forgotten. Don't let men lead you who are looking over their shoulders. Let men lead you who are looking forward."

"That's Woodrow Wilson," shouted a group in the crowd, as Mr. Wilson smiled.

"But follow the men," continued the president, "who do not ask what is your race; what is your religion; who do not even ask what is your politics."

but simply say, 'Are you Americans?'

The President's Busy Day.

The president, busy from the time he arrived here shortly before noon until he left for Shadow Lawn at 10 o'clock last night, delivered four speeches, participated in an official reception and took a ride through the streets and parks of Cincinnati at the head of a short motor car parade.

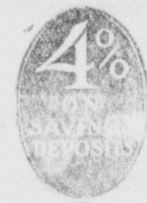

Crowds which packed the streets for blocks filled, windows in buildings along streets through which he moved and crowded the halls in which he spoke, cheered the president almost continuously. During his rides about the city he remained standing in his car, waving his hat to the crowds. Mrs. Wilson accompanied the president, and before the day was over her arms were heaped with bouquets of flowers given by committees and school children.

New Treads on Old Auto Tires

Making Them as Good as New at half

THE COST

OUR TREADS AND METHOD OF APPLYING THEM IS DIFFERENT AND BETTER THAN ANY OTHER.

An old casing with one of our new treads looks exactly like a new tire; it is very little, if any, heavier than a new tire, as we strip off all the old rubber before the new tread is applied.

Ours is the only method that strengthens the old tire. Others may put the same amount of rubber on the tread, but they do not strengthen the old casing.

There is no strength to rubber—it is merely a wearing surface.

Our treads are made up in the same shape as a new tire—they look like a new tire without the rim.

Three plys of No. 1 fabric, and the same amount of quality and rubber is used that you get on a new tire of the best grade.

We cement and stitch this new tread to any old casing that is not rim-cut, no matter if the tread is blown out or worn clear through in some places.

The stitching is done within 3/4 of an inch to 1 inch of the tread, where the fabric is always good.

Blowouts cannot occur above this stitching, no matter if the old casing has weak fabric on or near the tread—the 3-ply of new fabric sewed on below the weak points prevents any chance of blowouts.

The awl used on our machine does not cut the fabric. It is made perfectly round and has a sharp tapered point which merely spreads the fabric apart in making a hole for the thread.

We Guarantee to replace, free of charge, any tire we retread that blows out along the seams.

We cover the stitches inside and out—you cannot see them on the outside—a liner is put inside to make a perfectly smooth surface for the inner tube.

Punctures are practically eliminated on tires that have our new treads. There are three extra plys of fabric. And also, a nail that would go through a solid substance of equal thickness will usually only go through the new tread and glance or bend when it strikes the fabric of the old tire.

Our treads cost you about one-half the price of a new one.

We guarantee the new treads for 3,000 miles under the same conditions that all standard tires are guaranteed.

We also do Double Treading—taking two old tires and making one good one—charging only a fraction of the cost of new tires.

We quote prices here for new treads on only a few sizes. When in town get one of our booklets, which gives prices on all our work.

Upon Penrose and Roosevelt—a strange combination when you recall 1912 and later, but after all not an unnatural one, when you get to the last analysis of their characters—Republicans are basing their hopes of saving Pennsylvania to Hughes.

One by one the old reliable Republican states are slipping their moorings. Massachusetts and Ohio are about as certain to go Democratic this year as Arkansas and Texas.

Mr. Hughes' voice threatens to give out, but there is one voice, the voice from Oyster Bay, that will continue to go on and on forever.

Wadley, Miss Eva Rittenour, Miss Josephine Wilderman and Miss May Mahoney. The out-of-town guests besides the honor guests were: Mrs. Wray Dudley of Pittsburgh and Mrs. J. J. Walsh of St. Joseph.

Rice-McClurg Wedding.

Miss Ethel M. Rice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Rice, and Charles E. McClurg were married yesterday at the Christian church parsonage in Pickering, the Rev. E. H. Hutchison performing the ceremony. The bride was dressed in a dark blue traveling suit.

After the wedding the couple left for St. Joseph, where they will spend a short time before going to King City for a visit to Mr. McClurg's sister, Mrs. Scott Jolly. Upon their return they will be at home on Mr. McClurg's farm, about two and one-half miles south of Pickering.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles T. Bell announce the birth of their second son Friday, October 27.

Hallowe'en Party.

Mrs. Fred Yeomans, Hostess. The spirit of Hallowe'en in decorations and refreshments was beautifully carried out at the party given by Mrs. Fred J. Yeomans at her home, on East Seventh street, yesterday afternoon.

The stairway and hall were banked with oak leaves, which were also used effectively in the parlor. The ceilings of the parlor and dining room were festooned with red, and on the walls hung representations of owls and bats. The punch table was a mass of oak leaves, in the center of which was placed a huge pumpkin, completely enclosing the punch bowl. Cider was served to the guests by Mrs. Arch K. Frank, Mrs. Alfred McNeal and Miss Kate Schenck. Small pumpkins filled with autumn berries and fruits were also in evidence.

Dominoes was the diversion of the afternoon, Mrs. W. H. Hudson winning the greatest number of games, which happened to be thirteen. She received the prize, a beautiful black cat with a bow of tulle tied round its neck, reposing in a straw basket on a red cushion. This prize proved to be the surprise of the afternoon, and was also the occasion for much merriment, because—it is whispered—Mrs. Hudson is not overly fond of that species of animal.

The refreshments were carried out in red and white, delicacies especially tempting at Hallowe'en being served. The hostess was assisted in receiving by Mrs. W. C. Van Cleave, Mrs. S. G. Gillam and Mrs. G. H. Colbert; during the game by Mrs. C. Edwin Wells; in serving refreshments by Mrs. S. G. Seelman, Mrs. A. R. Estes, Mrs. G. W. Bowmer, Mrs. D. D. Miller and Mrs. Vilas Martin. The out-of-town guests were: Mrs. S. J. Yeomans and Mrs. F. B. Monroe of Hopkins.

For Helen Kelley.

Mrs. A. L. Kelley entertained at her home, on North Buchanan street, Wednesday afternoon, October 25, in honor of the fourth birthday anniversary of her small daughter, Helen Pauline. Music and games were enjoyed by all. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Kelley, assisted by Mrs. Hankin. Those present were: Catherine O'Donnell, Lucille Elliott, Mabel Robery, Mary Elizabeth Jones, Verla Viola and Melba Gattton, Mildred Marie and Buster Wiles, Virginia Belle Dean, Norma and Theo Dell Morton, Louise Peterman, Mildred Wray, Helen Hankin, Helen Pauline Kelley and Mrs. Lloyd Hankin.

SAFETY COURTESY SERVICE

Base Your Judgment on Efficiency--Not Price

The man who spends money for luxuries frequently becomes indifferent as to quality and durability. If it "looks good" that seems to be different.

You who have been a close observer of the progress made in mechanical skimming know that the Anker-Holth Self-Balancing Cream Separator has made good, and that it now heads the list of reliable and high-grade separators. From the first it has been a revelation to those who used other separators with varying success.

There isn't another separator made that gives such all-round satisfaction as the Anker-Holth. Its great simplicity, efficiency and dependability from a triple combination that has never been equalled.

due, city collector, for personal tax, $25.59.

December 10, 1914, by John H. Perdue, city collector, for $140.

The above suits are for taxes for the years 1890, 1891, 1893, 1895, 1896, 1897, 1899, 1900, 1901, 1902, 1905, 1906, 1909, 1910, 1911 and 1912.

It is learned also that not all of these cases were pressed to a conclusion. In some instances the prosecution was dropped while in others the defendant came into court and confessed judgment. An example in this is to be found in the following record in Justice of the Peace Connor's court, styled suit for personal taxes, as follows:

Lamm Settles in Court.

On this 24th day of November, 1914, comes the plaintiff (John H. Perdue, county collector) into court and for its cause of action files a personal tax bill, wherein it claims the defendant is justly indebted to it in the sum of $25.59 for personal taxes for which it asks judgment together with the costs of this suit.

Summons issued to Constable W. W. Bolton for defendant, Henry Lamm. Returned duly served by delivering a true copy of this writ to defendant.

December 12, 1914, comes now the defendant and pays the above amount

A Clear Complexion

Most every woman wants a nice, clear complexion, and can have it at a trifling cost. Constipation in women is increasing to an alarming extent, and this causes poor circulation which accounts for yellow, muddy, pimply complexions which so many women are trying to overcome.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets is the one dependable remedy for bad complexions. They act on the liver and bowels like calomel, yet have no dangerous after-effect. They assist nature to throw off the impurities that get into the blood. They will surely clear up, even the most distressing condition quickly and tone up the entire system, giving a pure, fresh, ruddy skin. They are absolutely pure—easy to take and correct constipation. They act quickly, cleanse and purify—and make you feel fine. Start treatment now. Get a box from any druggist—10c and 25c.

of taxes and costs in open court.

It is shown further that the suits for delinquent taxes were based on failure to pay assessment, chiefly on Sedalia real estate. Thus, it was alleged, he failed to pay taxes on five lots in block seven of "Cotton Brothers addition;" on a house and lot "between McVey's addition and railroad;" and on part of block six in West View addition.

Judge Lamm is proud of his library, which is said to be one of the finest law libraries in central Missouri. There is no way of ascertaining a market price of such a collection, but it is apparent that many thousand dollars were spent in assembling it.

Reply to Gardner Attack.

Judge Lamm's tax record was made the subject of attacks by some of his Republican opponents in the primary. Upon the selection of Frederick D. Gardner of St. Louis as the Democratic nominee, Gardner caused to be made known his intention of avoiding personal attacks in the campaign.

Notwithstanding the announcement of his position, Lamm's supporters prepared circulars attacking Gardner on the ground that he qualified on the bonds of Morrill and Barry, the alleged structural steel dynamiters, by declaring he was worth a million dollars, and then certifying on his personal tax returns the sums of $3,417 in 1914, and $3,100 in 1915.

The answer to this apparent discrepancy is that Gardner's wealth is to be found in his ownership of the St. Louis Coffin company, of which he is president, and the taxes of which are assessed against the corporation.

County court officials here have expressed undisguised amusement at the attempts of Lamm's supporters to make his opponent appear as a tax dodger.
